16. [ ] [ ] and I met with Jim Woolsey, General Counsel, Senate Armed Services Committee, whom I filled in on my conversations with Senators Jackson and Dominick. Woolsey feels that Dominick will be in the best position to dissuade Senator Symington from publishing this material and suggests that I talk with him again the end of this week or the first part of next week to be sure he has followed up on the matter.

17. [ ] Dorothy Fosdick, Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, called to say Senator Fulbright had taken the floor of the Senate today to discuss the status of ABM developments in the Soviet Union one year after the signing of the ABM Treaty. According to Fosdick, Fulbright made pointed references to Senator Jackson's announcements regarding various aspects of the Soviet missile program and raised some questions with respect to the current status of those programs. She asked if we would have our people take a look at Senator Fulbright's statement and then be prepared to bring her up-to-date on these items. (Copies of Fulbright's statement have been forwarded to Messrs. Bruce Clarke and Duckett for action.)
